

Winter Hello

Art by Shirley Beckes

Welcome friends, birds, and small creatures that pass by your home with your own icy art!

What You'll Need:

empty plastic deli container
small treasures
yarn or string purified water

What to Do:

1. Take a winter walk, inside or outside, to look for treasures that will fit in the bottom of your container. You might find beads, buttons, leaves, pine needles, flower petals—whatever you like!
2. Arrange the treasures in your container. Make a loop with the yarn and place both ends in the container, with the loop hanging over the edge.
3. Pour in enough water to cover your treasures and the ends of the yarn. Freeze overnight.
4. In the morning, pop your icy art out of the container and hang it outside. It will catch the sun and say hello to winter visitors!
